How do I view an email header ?

Author:
Webservio Inc.

Created On: 21 Sep 2012 1:21 AM

It depends on your email client. Here is a comprehensive list of email client programs and methods to see the email headers. We have posted the steps for Outlook 2007 and Outlook Express below for your convenience.

[A]Microsoft Outlook 2007 users:
  » Open the email message.
  » Under the Message tab, in the Options group, click on the Dialog Box Launcher icon.
  » In the Message Options dialog box, the headers appear in the Internet headers box.

[B]Outlook Express users:
  » Double click on the spam message
  » Click the "File" menu in the message window
  » Click "Properties"
  » Click the "Details" tab
  » Click "Message Source"

To report a message as spam for the SpamWeeder system, please send the header information to analyze@webservio.com. To send the header information, please copy (Ctrl A then Ctrl C) and paste (Ctrl V) the information into a new email message.