

How does Webservio's email hosting work?

Author:
Webservio Inc.

Created On: 18 Sep 2012 1:02 PM

When you sign up for Webservio's email hosting service, the MX record for your domain will point to our mail server so that all the email sent to your domain is received by our mail server. Once your email arrives to our mail server, you either have the option to read it web-based through a browser, or you can download the email using a POP3 client such as Microsoft Outlook, Outlook Express, Eudora, etc.